A millions ways, a thousand words, a few ideas today
Sitting at the keys, my lips, it's [Incomprehensible]
What shall I bring, what shall I play, can I get a taste?
Of the music you divine me or cut straight

Sing a song, sing a song through me
Let the melodies I'm offering meet heaven's harmonies
Let this song be discovered by a heart that's uncovered
That's the only way I want a song to sing through me

Don't let me be just another noise that fills the sky
Unless it echoes, heaven voices sound in spite
An instrument that captivate your souls' desires
A masterpiece pained with your fire

Sing a song, sing a song through me
Let the melodies I'm offering meet heaven's harmonies
Let this song be discovered by a heart that's uncovered
That's the only way I want a song to sing through me
Sing a song, oh yeah

Use my hands, use my feet, use this rhythm and this beat
Use my mouth so you can speak like the river to the deep
Use my hands and use my feet, use this rhythm and this beat
Use my mouth so you can speak

Sing a song, sing a song through me
Let the melodies I'm offering meet heaven's harmonies
Let this song be discovered by a heart that's uncovered
That's the only way I want a song to sing
That's the only way I want a song to sing
That's the only way I want a song to sing through me
