"High Road"

Oh the high road is the road less traveled
It gets wild and hard scrabbled and it's hard on your shoes
But the high road will take your breath away
When all the miles behind you finally come into view

You'll see mountains and the valleys
All the rivers far down below
Oh the high road might get lonely
But it's the only way to go

Oh the high road is a heartbeat
It's a sweet dream something Glory bound
It's ever winding and it's never easy
Oh but when I'm lost that's where I'll be found

On the high road, on the high road

There'll be hunger doubts and questions
You can't help but feel forsaken when the night turns bitter cold
But in the morning when the sun shines just right
It'll show that stretch of dirt is really paved with gold

You'll see mountains and the valleys
All the rivers far down below
Oh the high road might get lonely
But it's the only way to go

It's the only way to go
I'll see you on the high road
