A single mom workin' two jobs
Never worries about what she ain't got
Though she never said it was
She always sacrificed so much
That's what makes it love

Every year he sinks deeper in debt
Losin' the farm but they ain't got it yet
Could have sold out set himself up
But that family dirt runs in his blood
Yeah that's what makes it love

It will shelter and sustain you through all the hard times
And it will let you forgive without even asking why
It's the greatest of emotions, the deepest bond of trust
And that's what makes it love

Just like clockwork he's there at half past 8
Helps her get dressed sits with her all day
He's always there to bring her lunch
Been married 60 years last month
Yeah that's what makes it love

It will shelter and sustain you through all the hard times
And it will let you forgive without even asking why
It's the greatest of emotions, the deepest bond of trust
And that's what makes it love

He was born on Christmas Day
A common man, a carpenter by trade
But when they nailed Him to that cross
He died for everyone of us
And that's what makes it love
Yeah, that's what makes it love
Makes it love...
