Just one time for this precious one let there be life let there be love compassion fails it falls asleep as they die in their youth arise a rescue from death for a life there's just one chance for this child in your hands taken it's future when given the choice but this child is sacred it's blood let us believe what no one can see is a life sacrificed for selfish reasons a broken bond between mother and child forsaken mercy for inconvenience a selfish choice a precious loss regret for this unborn child put to death still grace abounds forsaken mercies still grace abounds a life of regret still grace abounds
