To always stay true
That's what you do
swim against the tide keep your head high and when the glass falls and breaks into your arms don't you falter, nothing happened, it's not your fault

Although you never said too much
Well you said enough
Mind the essence not the words
Matters the ways you take to get it
It always makes you better
Respect the things you've done

You said be ready to let go
But I am not ready to let go
You think I am ready
But I am not
But I am not
Well I am not.....

Don't worry if you don't make a sound...
Your voice isn't strong anymore
Your eyes are saying enough and you should know...
And you should know...And you should know...

What you gave me
I'll forever hold
Knowing that is a lot
Could I ever control?

I'll think of what you went through to beat the time
Took a moment and a look to say it all

Although you never said too much
Well you said enough
Mind the essence not the words
Matters the ways you take to get it it always make you better
Respect the things you've done

You said be ready to let go
Well I am not ready to let go
You think I am ready
But I am not
But I am not
Well I am not.....

Don't worry if you don't make a sound...
Your voice isn't strong anymore
Your eyes are saying enough and you should know...
And you should know...And you should know...
