I was to cool
For my high school
Graduated with the stated fact that I'm the man

Calculated
The negated
They never had a chance at being close to where I am

My freshman year all those nervous years
Where I'm begging for a chance to becoming clear
Of all the mistakes in the past
Will they last?
Step 1 took a chance I ran
For a leadership position with some voted I can Only one option to becoming known
And I made fun of those in the marching band GO!

Would you guess that my jokes were key?
The seniors became my friends you see...
Once you get past all the sophomore smirks
The juniors become the absolute worst
But once you start laughing at all of them
You gain attention from the higher clans
Now everyone is following me this year is mine hell I'll be mean

There's no shame in this game...
I'll take it all the way
To the high school plays I'll laugh all
Day for my sake, making fame today
