Freezing winter all around Holding myself in still
I see your face in the depths
Of my own heart

Like the mountains that crumble
I watch you fade away
Like rivers runnin' dry
We slowly go decline

All we got is time
All we need is now
to make it through to the night
But all we do is sigh
I just can't live without you

Faces come and go in time
They never seem to know
How to keep you by my side illusion is where we stand

Like the mountains that crumble
I watch you fade away
Like rivers runnin' dry
We slowly go decline

All we got is time
All we need is now
to make it through to the night
But all we do is sigh
I just can't live without you
