(Verse)

When I'm giving a encore, my notebook expedition
Where I claim see the flashes
Far from the window in our kitchen
When I'm giving up on sane the drugs for my head
All those things I couldn't think of, but I really wish I said
And you go

(Bridge)

I don't want no hopeless, hopeless,
I don't want no hopeless life
I don't want no hopeless, hopeless,
I don't want no hopeless life

(Chorus)

If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!

(Verse)

You're in the basement, watching Muppets on TV
And I'm still in the kitchen, and I refuse to leave
You say, "come on take a manual, make a Honolulu bell
While I'm aching in my echos, and my eyes are looking down!"
Well I'm tired of my morality, so I let it in the park
Just to see if I feel bad about it, it makes me bleed it out Well I worry how one day we're going , gone each and next day
Say yeah, you're probably right
For once, so come on, let's get a drink!

(Bridge)

I don't want no hopeless, hopeless,
I don't want no hopeless life
I don't want no hopeless, hopeless,
I don't want no hopeless life

(Chorus)
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!

(x2)
We are young, and in love
We are twirling through space
On the luckiest rock
In the loneliest place

(Chorus)
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!

If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!
If I fall back down
You pick me up, yeah
You pick me up!
