I picked a bad time to fall
And I don't know whose idea this was
And I don't have anyone to call
When I wanna let myself cave in

You and your positivity
You're not gonna get a happy song today from me

I need a day or two, somethin' here
Been spending too much time in my room
And I been away because of you, dear
And everybody knows to blame you

Yeah, I picked a bad time to fall
And I don't know whose idea this was
And I don't have anyone to call
When I wanna let myself cave in

You and your positivity
You're not gonna get a happy song today from me

Somebody should've warned me early
And maybe they did and I'm just deaf
Oh, you know, I spend a lot of time before men
But you're the first to make me lose my breath

Yeah, I picked a bad time to fall
And I don't know whose idea this was
And I don't have anyone to call
When I wanna let myself cave in

You and your positivity
You're not gonna get a happy song today for me

There you go mouthing off
I get so bad to fall for someone
Just 'cause the timin's wrong
And I guess you set me up
Like a ball and cube and all for you

Yeah, I picked a bad time to fall
And I don't know whose idea this was

And I don't have anyone to call
When I wanna let myself cave in

You and your positivity
You're not gonna get a happy song today from me
No, no, no

Yeah, I picked a bad time to fall
And I don't know whose idea this was
And I don't have anyone to call
When I wanna let myself cave in

You and your positivity
You're not gonna get a happy song today from me
No, no, no
