Just like an innocent child you smile your arms are open wide

But in time I'll sure you loose your will and passion to this life that is unsure More gracious is death
Leave this mess, this confusion
I'm sure you'll be blessed

Walk straight through Don't look back there's nothing you haven't seen before Wind the sorrow surrender now and leave frustration behind

Admissions more than you can take Abandon all that you have gained

Yes in time I'll sure you You'll be down and broken Like a tramp without fortune you wander all alone
leave this mess, this confusion
I'm sure you'll be blessed

Walk straight through...
