She's got big brown eyes and tangled hair
Voguing in her underwear
And nothing is better
Than doing nothing together

Now she got a toothbrush as a microphone
Belting out the Rolling Stones
And I'm the last one to stop her
Can't believe that I got her

[Pre-Chorus]
We get so close
Kissing like eskimos
It's a little bit much, I know
I do

[Chorus]
Isn't she cra-crazy beautiful?
Isn't she strange, strange and wonderful?
I think I love her more than I even understand

[Verse 2]
She got a classic style that's all her own
A smile you can hear through the telephone
And she says she's a rebel
But she's way too sentimental

And she's precious even when she's mad
Gets angry and I start to laugh
And I know that it's nothing
She's just pushing my buttons

[Pre-Chorus]
We get so close
Kissing like eskimos
It's a little bit much, I know
I do

[Chorus]
Isn't she cra-crazy beautiful?
Isn't she strange, strange and wonderful?

I think I love her more than I even understand

Isn't she cra-crazy beautiful?
Isn't she strange, strange and wonderful?
I think I love her more than I even understand

[Bridge]

She's a little bit wild, a little bit mad, a little bit uh-oh
beautiful
Wild, a little bit bad, a little bit uh-oh
And I never can know her too well
Oh still I never want anyone else

[Chorus]

Isn't she cra-crazy beautiful?
Isn't she strange, strange and wonderful?
I think I love her more than I even understand

Isn't she cra-crazy beautiful?
Isn't she strange, strange and wonderful?
I think I love her more than I even understand

[Ending]

She's a little bit wild, a little bit mad, a little bit uh-oh
beautiful
Wild, a little bit bad, a little bit uh-oh
And I think I love her more than I even understand
