("...he saw what, he would look in the rock and see what was in there and i guess that day he saw a skull. one of his dark days.") pocketsssssssssss...

when I look through the door of my living room I want another green room for my home should i pull up the floor from my kitchen so I can feel the dirt while i'm doing all my dishes to live in a house hat i dream in is a luxury when you understand it's meaning but even in the dark am i dreaming? a galaxy of stars above our ceiling in my eyes iâ´m understanding what i see it's hard to think about the time it takes to get from space to me (into the wild) yeah into the wild while I never know whether I should be and there's the thinkin' and i've been thinkin' of the many who have been here a different (oooo) ocean why we gotta stick here when we're stuck inside the ocean?

city grind
it's hard to set myself down and just think about the motion oh, i'm crying shouldn't I be content with what I've got and not seek time

(?) I just heard something that I'd enjoy by the choir and I wonder if it's me who's just a thief taking a stash that was in the grass diggin' a hole and diggin' it deep (you'll dig for a while) yeah you'll dig for a while cause you'll never know when I plant the seed and i'm still thinkin' and i've been thinkin' of the many have been here (it's going to be a fine night tonight, it's going to be a fine day)

and if i had some kind of need maybe the thing i need is the thing i've got and if i look inside of me i'll find the thing that gets me to the (bottom) and i know that there are needy some are good but some are rotten why should i motivate the needs when i know my needs should be forgotten is it alright, if we feel good?
