We are standing by the water's edge
You promised, that's not what I said
What you say then, come on darling
Let it go, go, go now

Sun is shining, birds are doing things
You promised, don't start that again
You throw water, I throw water back
So it's started, hope it never ends

As broken as we are
I wouldn't trade a thing
You've given me the big happy

Hardly knew me, yet it all worked out
When you kissed me, truth inside your mouth
Somehow believe all those years are
In the searching

You were standing by the water's edge
And you are wondering if I meant what I said
I know it now when you would bend so
Put your clothes back on
Let's keep wondering

Broken as we are
I wouldn't trade a thing
You've given me the big happy
You've given me the big happy
You've given me the big happy
