You and I,
Felt so good to begin with didn't we?
Well now it seems there's far too many adverts in between.
And we don't speak,
So we're left in constant silence.
It's haunting me, so I'm ready now to fight this.

You have the shield, I'll take the sword.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.
I'm not afraid of danger in the dark.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.

You and I aren't working, burning on the bridges now.
We're trapped inside, screaming want somebody get me out.

You have the shield, I'll take the sword.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.
I'm not afraid of danger in the dark.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.

I no longer love you, no longer love you.
No longer love you,
No longer love you.

And we don't speak,
So we're left in constant silence.
It's haunting me, so I'm ready now to fight this.

You have the shield, I'll take the sword.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.
I'm not afraid of danger in the dark.
I no longer love you, no longer love you.
(Repeat)

You and I, felt so good to begin with didn't we?
But now it seems these shields and swords,
Are haunting me.
