These thoughts I have could be clear ones and they can seem vivid
The goals I reach are not near ones the further than limits
I block her out so when I'm looking through my mind she ain't in it
Can I be free for a minute, can I be me for a minute?
The thoughts I have can be dark ones, even be smart ones
Know I'm gonna have a couple straight from the heart
ones
Tell you what I think I will until I depart mum It's you that I lived for, I am the first and the last one to love you lots

What's better than thinking about the ones you love Nothing much when you're thinking about the ones you love
I feel the same when I'm in the floor, see the sun above Unconditional like bills paid when I run them up
No one here to help you pain now you're gonna moan
No one here to save the day now you're all alone Wish I was born with a golden spoon in my mouth Fact is I wasn't so, I'm coming from a colder zone

And when the sun falls down I'll be up again
I never close my eyes,
And if the dawn might break I'll see nothing when (nothing when)
My thoughts are only you and my mind is over you My thoughts are over you and these words are all for you (all for you)

I wanna see you happy, I wanna see you smile Cause you're been trespassing, and you won't leave my mind
Now even think about this, call me say, yes nan I'm 31 now I'm still saying yes nan You had to replace my mom, dad 2 parents in one I know your proud staring at your grandson
I found a job I like like, got the flat, the cars, the bike, the quad I Like

Because of you I'm tireless in every single song I write
Had a golden life, wanting people to honour mine Tell 'em while I'm here, cause one day I'm gonna die
And when I'm I'm gone I want my music still playin'
And when my people listen to this track, it's gonna make them wanna cry I ain't gonna lie, I think about my scene to say the games better is a must Now I gotta fly
My talents gonna shine for surely, fam I know it, I work
'round the clock,
I don't stop at night.

And when the sun falls down I'll be up again
I never close my eyes,
And if the dawn might break I'll see nothing when (nothing when)
My thoughts are over you and these words are all for
you (all for you)
My thoughts are only you and my mind is over you
My thoughts are over you and these words are all for
you (all for you).
