Sometimes I forget these complications in my life
Sometimes it's frustrating how I
Come to find that still nobody feels like me

And I put a smile on my face when I
Feel a little out of place like I
Can't erase that still nobody feels like me

Won't you be yourself
Cause we are who we are and no one else
You see that there's no reason to be alone
Cause we are who we are and
That's how this goes

And I forget to read between these lines
Like when my words don't rhyme
And I feel my loss of time, but still nobody feels like me

Won't you be yourself
Cause we are who we are and no one else
You see that there's no reason to be alone
Cause we are who we are and
That's how this goes

But you, you don't know what to do
When you're singing out of tune
How beautiful this person that you are on the inside

Won't you be yourself
Cause we are who we are and no one else
You see that there's no reason to be alone
Cause we are who we are and
That's how this goes
