I hope you're happy with the choice you've made along
the way
I guess it's time to just walk away, cause there's nothing left to say If I finally find some kind of reason to come back, I'll call
But for now, there's just no reasons at all

I told myself I would never fall in love, but I was wrong Now that I'm left by myself, I never thought I'd feel so alone
If you finally find some kind of reason to come back, don't call
Cause for now, there's just no reasons at all

The broken promises that built me up just to let me down
For every second that you took my heart I stayed around
If we finally find some kind of reason to come back, we're wrong
Cause for now, there's just no reasons at all

the way
I guess it's time to just walk away cause there's nothing left to say
