It's the wind that kills you
It's the strength that beckons you
To the calm of the storm
It's the light that pulls you through

It's the signs that guide you
It's the stars that light up the sky
It's the trees that show you
That the breeze keeps passing on by

So won't you follow me
I can show you
Everything
That's on my mind
So won't you realize
When I tell you
That you're just hanging me up to dry

It's suspense that holds you
It's the chase that's breaking my heart
I'm fallin' apart at the seams
I think it's time to rethink everything

So won't you follow me
I can show you
Everything
That's on my mind
So won't you realize
When I tell you
That you're just hanging me up to dry
