Let's get it right
Before the hand hits 12 tonight
Cause I can see in your eyes
You trip on every word
It's a lie, it's a lie

And tonight, while there's still time left
And you said everything you wanted to
There's one thing you haven't heard
It's my lie, it's my lie

Lay on your back and raise your right hand
This could be the last chance that you get to Swear on this knife that you Never loved me, never, never loved me
Because if that's the truth
Push it through me, push it, push it through me
But you don't, and you won't
Cause you're a sad excuse
Yeah you're a sad excuse

You search directories
And somehow you've found out
Who's sleeping next to me
In my bed, in my bed
So tonight, while there's still time left
And you did everything you wanted to
There's one thing you haven't heard
It's my lie, it's my lie

Lay on your back and raise your right hand
Swear on this knife that you
Never loved me, never, never loved me
Because if that's the truth
Push it through me, push it, push it through me
But you don't, and you won't
Cause you're a sad excuse
Yeah you're a sad excuse

The hardest part is knowing
You didn't have the tact to sit back and react to the truth

The hardest part is knowing
You didn't have the tact to sit back and

Swear on this knife that you
Never loved me, never, never loved me
Because if that's the truth
Push it through me, push it, push it through me

Swear on this knife that you
Swear on this knife that you

Lay on your back and raise your right hand
Lay on your back and raise your right hand
Lay on your back and raise your right hand
Lay on your back and raise your right hand

Swear on this knife that you
Swear on this knife that you
