There's a place I'd like to go,
Where all the creatures grow slow,
Purple mountains always open wide,
Flocks of phoenix.

And as the twilight dances away with the light,
All neon trees awake let the feelings incite,
Drinking fears away Indrik calls me his knight,
Suspicious colour clouds giving places up high. (x2)

Wondrous lights drink harmful love,
Perfect sights that seem to go wrong,
Handsome bugs start eating all your thoughts,
Got no feelings.

And as the twilight dances away with the light,

All neon trees awake let the feelings incite,
Drinking fears away Indrik calls me his knight,
Suspicious colour clouds giving places up high.

This is the place in your head where your mind
can create each of your own heights.

And as the twilight dances away with the light,
All neon trees awake let the feelings incite,
Drinking fears away Indrik calls me his knight,
Suspicious colour clouds giving places up high.
