We have lift off

We could conquer the world
Like navigating the seven seas
Nothing but the stars, the moon
And you & me

Sharing the smiles and the sunsets
Silly pranks and gentleman bets
It's been a long time since we kissed on the tire swing
Now all our friends are
Searching for diamond rings
All the clichés are coming true
The sun can't shine as bright as you

Just so you know
Just what you're worth
Cause when you're falling from the stars
It won't hurt
Just so you know
Just what you're worth
Cause when you're falling from the stars
It won't hurt
Come back down to earth
Come back down to earth
Come back down

It's like a lesson in astronomy
Sometimes you're too complex for me
I would travel at the speed of light
Just to have you here tonight
All the clichés are coming true
The sun can't shine as bright as you

Just so you know
Just what you're worth
Cause when you're falling from the stars
It won't hurt
Just so you know
Just what you're worth
Cause when you're falling from the stars

It won't hurt
Come back down to earth

I'm sorry my heart is so impatient
When you're soaring the constellations
Can you hear the song I made for you
I hope my message is coming through
Come back down to earth, come back to earth
Come back down to earth, come back down to earth,
Coming through

Just so you know
Just what you're worth
It won't hurt
Come back down to earth
Come back down to earth
Come back down to earth
Come back down to earth
Houston, we have no problem.
