How could you leave me lonely?
You said you never would
You said you never would
How come you never called me?
When you said you would
When you said you would
How come we're not together?
It really breaks me down
You really break me down
You said through stormy weather
You'd always be around
You'd always be around

But to my surprise
You just told me pretty lies

Now it's been six whole days
You've got me spinning round and around
And I don't know why
We went our separate ways
But I know you're bringing me down tonight

Just as the going got rough
You took your heart and ran
You took your heart and ran
You just didn't care enough
To fight for what we had
To fight for what we had
And I keep blaming myself
What could I have done?
What could I have done?
But in my heart I know that
That you were the one
That you were the

The one that didn't care
Now I'm alone and it's not fair

Now it's been six whole days
You've got me spinning round and around
And I don't know why

We went our separate ways
But I know you're bringing me down tonight

And why don't you care?
Do you not remember
How I built my life
My world around you
Now you're not there
My world is gone
I don't know what to do

Now it's been six whole days
You've got me spinning round and around

Now it's been six whole days
And I don't know why
We went our separate ways
