The sound of the rain falling from the trees
The moon glows brightly through the clouds
Distant thunder echoes through the air
Soundless lightning shines in the sky

Amidst the wrong that never sleeps
Earth still shows its majesty
Even though anger flows and pain grows
Earth still graces us with its beauty

The love between father and daughter

The moment you see the good in someone
Though so much drags us down
There is good and happiness to be found

Amidst the wrong that never sleeps
Earth still shows its majesty
Even though anger flows and pain grows
Earth still graces us with its beauty
