Just another day, the wind blows the clouds away,
actually I'm well
Can you see my sign, that shows you I'm fine, you believe the words I say

Although I've got some friends reassuring my quiver
It won't last forever

What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do

Just another day, the wind blows the clouds away,
actually I'm well
Can you see my sign, that shows you I'm fine, you
believe the words I say

Although I've got
some friends reassuring my quiver
It won't last forever

What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses

What I have to do
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do

(Instrumental)

Although I've got
some friends reassuring my quiver
It won't last forever

What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do

What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do with my leftover senses
What I have to do
What I have to do
What I have to do
What I have to do
