I'm a country girl, I ain't seen a lot,
But you came along and my heart went POP!
You took a little street car to my heart,
And an apple of love fell off my apple cart!
You looked at me, my heart began to pound,
You weren't the sort of guy I thought would stick around,
Hey, but it don't have to be eternally;
My bad, bad Angel put the Devil in me!

You put the Devil in me...

You lured me in with your cold grey eyes,
Your simple smile and your bewitching lies;
One and one and one is three,
My bad, bad Angel... the Devil and me!

You put the Devil in me...
You put the Devil in me!
You put the Devil in me!

My bad, bad Angel, you put the Devil in me!

So, now my dear, I aint the girl you knew,
'Cause the Angel's got Heaven, but I get you;
And the tree of life grows tall, you see,
My bad, bad Angel - you put the Devil in me!

Oh... you put the Devil in me!
You put the Devil in me!
You put the Devil in me...
You put the Devil in... me!

My bad, bad Angel... you put the Devil in me!
