I see your clothes spread on the floor
And the notes hung on the door
I never thought that you'd be gone
But I guess that I was wrong

I thought you'd always be with me
But I was blind to never see The signs were always there

Was it something that I said? Did I do something wrong?
Did you know that this would happen? Did you know all along?

And I still see you somehow, but I can't feel this right now Cause I know that it's all over, and there's nothing we can do So then what would make me say? That I'll always feel this way
When we know that it's all over, I'm so lost alone
without you

Looking back on all these days You've changed in just so many ways
I always thought that I was right
But I never meant to fight

I've got a pain inside of me
But you were blind to never see The hurt will never go

Was it something that I said? Did I do something wrong?
along?

And I still see you somehow, but I can't feel this right
Cause I know that it's all over, and there's nothing we can do
So then what would make me say? That I'll always feel

this way
without you
I'm so lost alone without you

And I still see you somehow, but I can't feel this right
Cause I know that it's all over, and there's nothing we
can do
So then what would make me say? That I'll always feel
this way
without you
I'm so lost alone without you
