Those months were gone
In the blink of an eye
I've stayed up til dawn
Too many times to count

Conclusions I've drawn
Contradict themselves
I try to move on... ooh

But these last ten days
Feel like forever
Your words on replay
Again and again

Like an echo they
Haunt my heart
An ever-present weight...

Time flew by when I was with you
We always wanted more
But time crept by when I wondered why
Everything seemed so unsure
And then time just stopped
And I couldn't help but think that
There were no days left to count

It amazes me
How fast things can change
A mystery
Reoccurring again

You're not the first to be
Leaving this way

You say it's not me...

Well it gets hard to hear
More than once
It's never clear
It never makes sense

Anyone I hold near

Runs away with a piece of me
Like a souvenir...

Time flew by when I was with you
We always wanted more
But time crept by when I wondered why
Everything seemed so unsure
And then time just stopped
And I couldn't help but think that

Souvenir... souvenir... souvenir...
Souvenir... souvenir...

Time flew by when I was with you
We always wanted more
But time crept by when I wondered why
