Behold the light
as we all watch a storm of souls unveil the flashes of our lives a dawn of death
embrace the parasites in which the world we all once knew becomes a kataclysmic tomb

They feed
unto our weakness
unmercifully
so dark the con of man
take heed and see
a better part of thee
can't you foresee
your cursed eternity
eternity

Will it fulfill the prophecy
into the heavens shall we gaze make way the coming of the king or is it death you seek

Who will prevail
as war is waged for seven years will you be lovers of yourselves embrace the plague
as the last trumpets sound when death runs rampant in your mind its death you shall not find

Into the void of untangeable strife born of weakness
fallen victim to filth and disease contradiction and perils shall humble the fall to your knees to your knees
