You've got to pay for consequences brought forth by anger you got to take more more time to reconcile and break free

He who walks in the shadows holds onto the ice cold hand of death I've seen the aftermath just as sure as you'll pay for all you sins just when you think its impossible you gain the nerve to go down that road again re-open whats been done before an insatiable love that never ends

Start blaming yourself
stop blaming the world
stop blaming all the ones who pray for you just open your eyes
and meet your demise
and fight with all the strength you have inside

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make it drink it's sins away you follow the steps of your father will you ever be who you want to be rip out the shame and rebuild your soul own up to the blood that once was shed so precious so beautiful to be given the chance to live again

stop blaming the world

Rise to your feet and justify the truth of a lie Search in your soul to say goodbye

Why live the lie is it worth all the pain and anguish try one more time take control of your so called life
