Even though I know you wanna set your love in motion
I would stop and teach your racin'™ heart how to play
Because I'm not ready to reciprocate devotion
And I just don't wanna say you're makin'™ me straight

Ooooooh, baby let me tell you what to do
Before getting in way over your head
Ooooooh, I would run away if I were you
Before I run you right over instead

Often I feel all alone as if I were an island
Often I feel bluer than the bottomless sea
Either way I know just what I need and I'mma find it
Because all I need is already within me

Ooooooh, baby let me tell you what to do
Before getting in way over your head
Ooooooh, I would run away if I were you
Before I run you right over instead

Save your anesthetic for the boy next door
Nothing in your needle knocks me out no more
Not to say that anybody's keepin'™ score
But you gotta play the game to win the war and

If you wanna get with me you better be tough
Because I'm the kinda boy who likes to play rough
I'm in it to win it and I'm calling your bluff
Step up to the plate c'mon and show me your stuff!

So go on and get whatever it is you desire
Nobody is ever gonna show you the way
Do yourself and hold your head up just a little higher
You'll be fine if you remember just what I say

Ooooooh, baby let me tell you what to do
Before getting in way over your head
Ooooooh, I would run away if I were you
Before I run you right over instead

If you wanna get with me you better be tough

Because I'm the kinda boy who likes to play rough
I'm in it to win it and I'm calling your bluff
Step up to the plate c'mon and show me your stuff!
