All those things I ever thought
Would never end,
To Think they're now all memories,
Sends me round the bend.

To watch her airplane swaying
Coming in to land,
There my world is hanging
In someone else's hands.

And if I have done something,
And you have to let me go,
Think of me as someone,
Someone that you know.

But if I don't hear something
Pretty soon from now,
I'll disconnect completely
See how that works out...

I wasn't daring
Not much a chancer
Oh my darling
Why won't you answer?

7:00 am
Midnight in Dover
Sun's coming up now
I guess it's over

Playing his guitar
While he's dying of cancer
Oh my father
Why won't you answer?

7:00 am
Midnight in Dover
Sun's coming up now
I guess it's over.
