

Wakey! Wakey! "Twenty two"

Visit "Twenty two" on MotoLyrics.com

I guess you know why they are looking at you For me it started when I turned twenty two you count your blessings but youre still black and blue you should go home before your monies are gone

You said it was over but its started again said it was easy but you still never win and its done before its started and theyre not your friends
you should go home before your monies are gone you should go home before your monies are...

I hope you know that I dont like you this way I know you lost it but you still try escape and its sad but now its over theres nothing left to say you should go home before your monies are gone
you should go home before your monies are...
