oh wonderful one why are you like that?
oh wonderful one why are you like that?
glow in the darkness, that's how we do it
just like the stars upon your ceiling that put you to sleep after

oh wonderful one why are you like that?
oh wonderful one why are you like that?
glow in the darkness, that's how we do it
put you to sleep after
put you to sleep after
put you to sleep after

cross the blinding darkness of your room in your room
in your room
There's your head
It's bandaged from the top Clinging with your fears Clinging with your tears Here we are apart but not again and again
Again and again
And it doesn't make sense So put away your jewels then

I'll be at your drowning
At your libation
You've died

And in the end, they ask you for your reply Don't you tell them what you found out
This time
