I'm packed in a box I'm whacked in a case tell me why I don't fit in I'm told what to wear I'm sold what I hear all me am I so unique?
I'm stronger than steel I'm larger than life tell me why I crumble a lot
I laugh as I cheat I'm told I am right but I don't feel that's it anymore
And all of this time
The media says it's fine
The media is out of line
I read what I know I tell what I read tell me why I act a fool
I do what I see I act like I don't tell me am I so original?
I'm given a look I see that it's sad tell me why I'm depressed
I can't wear this shoe it's bigger than me and I'll never fill it like you do I can't be this to them
You are what you're called to be Just look up to Him and He will tell it I can't be this no more Why can't we see?
