You have to buy it's your only way
To find the place where you fit in I'll tell you kno, but why would you
Even bother to hear what I might have to say
You've got a face but it's hiding behind
All the stuff that was pinned up all over you
You find a style in a magazine
Cut it out for the hope that it brings you peace
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find something more than you have
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find something more than you have
Turn on the box and the channel reads FOX
And the host tells me where I'm supposed to be
I don't fit in this thing that she brings
So I change all I sing to the tune of her ring
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find something more than you have
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find something more than you have
There is more, there is more, there is more to this life
In my head, I am dead
Baby, I've got space conecting the dots of what I've read
I smoke nicotine just to be seen
I'm driving in reverse in this collapsed-out limousine
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find something more than you have
You keep your eyes on people (huh) [3x]
Hoping to find more than you have
Hoping to find something more than you have
There is more, there is more, there is more to this life
