What you gonna do if the fashion changes
Have you got a good song, can you go on
Will you be so strong you can rearrange it
Will you still have the thought to rely on
Will you cut your hair, do you dye it yellow
Are you still the right flavor to be tasted
Will you have your name in the sunday papers
Do you tell them you are straight or get wasted
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Did you ever think when you picked the front line
Are you gonna back up on your promises
Did you tell the folks you could make the changes
Are you gonna play it different than the last one
You got the address and you got the power
Are you gonna use it right or abuse it
Taking all the trust that you know you're given
Are you gonna play the game or just lose it
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you have the looks
Do you have the profile
Do you have your fingerprints or a record
If they come to you for some information
Looking for a secret would you sell one
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
Do you think about it, do you think about it
Do you think about it, I'll bet you do
