"Loggin' On"

Everybody's in the motherboard
Communication, information overload
Socialising on the internet
Correlation, situation so inadequate
They gotta get out again
Set some trends
They gotta get a life again
Make some friends.

Every hour, every day
Every moment, every way
Makes no difference what you say
They're bootin' up and loggin' on
Every thought, every seed
Every problem, every need
Satisfaction guaranteed
They're bootin' up and loggin' on again.

Everybody's got a site of their own
Stimulation, simulation in the home
A virtual life caught in cyberspace
Assimilation, fabrication takin' place
They gotta get out again
Set some trends
They gotta get a life again
Make some friends.

The world outside is such a crashing bore
The surf is up behind your bedroom door.

Every hour, every day
Every moment, every way
Makes no difference what you say
They're bootin' up and loggin' on
Every thought, every seed
Every problem, every need
Satisfaction guaranteed
They're bootin' up and loggin' on again...
Loggin' on again... loggin' on again...

Every hour, every day

Every moment, every way
Every thought, every seed
Every problem, every need.

Every hour, every day
Every moment, every way
Makes no difference what you say
They're bootin' up and loggin' on
Every thought, every seed
Every problem, every need
Satisfaction guaranteed
They're bootin' up and loggin' on.

Every hour, every day
Every moment, every way
Makes no difference what you say
They're bootin' up and loggin' on
Every thought, every seed
Every problem, every need
Satisfaction guaranteed
They're bootin' up and loggin' on again,
Loggin' on again, loggin' on again...

The world outside is such a crashing bore
The surf is up behind your bedroom door
The surf is up behind your bedroom door...
