I can see it in your eyes
You've been searching for something
In a world you despise
There just has to be something
You can see through the lies
Now that you've found your calling
And you'll say your goodbyes
To a world that is fallen
They'll be drownin' in the sin
When Jesus comes to save the world again

You won't shed any tears
For the ones who won't listen
Got to help spread the fear
You're a man on a mission
It's so good to be sure
Just let the faith flower
It's so good to be pure
And you can watch from the tower
You'll be laughing with your friends
When Jesus comes to save the world again

In your suit and tie
You have come here to try us
You're the all knowing guy,
, with the face of the pious
'Cause the man in the sky
Say's he gotta have more
And if you wanna get by
Gotta go door to door
Say I better let you in
Before Jesus comes to save the world again

I don't want your time
I don't want your faith
I don't want your life
I don't want to be saved
I don't want your God
I don't want your fear
I don't want what you got
And I don't want you here

All the best of everything
When Jesus comes to save the world again
When Jesus comes to save the world again
When Jesus comes to save the world again,
