Met her down at that Tokyo place, loved her pretty face
I said, "Hey, you're alright, so alright"
I was sitting in her car
She told me, "You're a star and I know you"

She said, "Take me home, I need love so strong
Come on and knock me out, knock me out
I've been too long alone
I want hot love, you know and I need it now"

She said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"
Said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"

Next day she took me out to a rough kick boxing show
Violence really turned her on, oh no
She was screaming for more blood
Loved it more than any drug, I couldn't stand it

I said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"
Said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"

I said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"
Said, "Hey, let's go, don't put on a show
You're just another piece, another piece of meat"
