Open my mind, let me find new vibrations
Tell me the way I must take to reach my destination
And a place where I can stay
Where is the love of my life, couldn't find her
Show me the way to find myself
'Cause I'm nowhere in the darkness of these days

Is there anybody there who feels that vibration?
Who shows me the way to my love
Is there anybody there with that inclination
To bring back the sun to my heart?

I find myself in a state of confusion
Life's like a pantomime trick or a lazer illusion
Where's a place that I can stay?
Save me, don't let me get lost in the ocean
I need your help everyday to control my emotions
In the darkness of these days

Is there anybody there who feels that vibration?
Who shows me the way to my love
Is there anybody there with that inclination
To bring back the sun to my heart?
