This world will deal you a few tough hands
You can hold, you can fold, just play the best you can
How I came to win your love, I really can't say
It's okay, I guess I'm just lucky that way

My road has taken a few wrong turns
But all the dark dead ends have helped me to learn
My direction may be cloudy some days
It's okay, I guess I'm just lucky that way

I guess I could complain
About the trouble I've been through
But if I hadn't lost it all
I might have never found you

Now the wheel's gonna spin 'round and 'round again
There's still all the ways to lose and all the ways to win
When I look back at all the games I've had to play
It's okay, I guess I'm just lucky that way

When I look back at all the games I've had to play
It's okay, I guess I'm just lucky that way
Oh baby, it's okay, I guess I'm just lucky that way
It's okay baby, I guess I'm just lucky that way

Lucky that way
