

Arman Srša "A Strange Day To Die"

Visit "A Strange Day To Die" on MotoLyrics.com

A Strange Day To Die

I see my body as I drift away on the ground below
I smile and say goodbye as I rise up slow
Who would have thought this blissful moment
Would be my time to go, it's such a

Strange day to die, it's such a
Strange day to die

I guess that we all have it coming lord, I aint trying to diss, but
Why did it have to be on a day as beautiful as this?
How will I ever rest in peace without her kiss, it's a

Strange day to die, it's such a
Strange day to die
This couldnt have been worse timing
The sun is shining and there's still so much left to do today
So much left to say
La da da da, ladadada
Mmmhmmh

Now tell me if I was your romeo, would you be my juliet?
Take this sharpened dagger, put it through your chest?
And even though they say that death, is loves true test, it's such a

Strange day to die
Strange day to die
This couldn't have been worse timing
The sun is shining and there's still so much left to do
today
So much left to say

Visit Arman Srša page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.