"Sometimes i wish"

I know that this question raises all kinds of issues in my mind, and this question is do you believe in Christ? Because i believe that what we experience and ah and its not being talked about openly enough was pure evil.

Sometimes i wish this world was just a crazy dream, sometimes things arent what they are meant to be, or what they seem.

Sometimes i wish this world was one big dream so many tragedies, life threatening disease in reality who can we blame for these things? So we pray for the families and the souls of the people shot dead they cry, roaming through the halls of the schools at night. My homie Joseph in Texas, 14 years old police took his life at his front door. Maybe humans have converted into a beast. Can we really point the finger at just one thing? Is it a sign of the time or just the beginning i pray to God to help me keep living. Jealousy and envy and so much hate, newborn babies thrown in garbage cans every day. In the lobby of a hospital a young girl dies, no money to pay so she pays with her life.

Chorus

How many times must we ask ourselves why, and how many times must we watch our children die? Remember the times we were united as one growing up as a child life was always fun. Time have changed and its been for the worst. Trials and tribulations that we face of course, time to put our foot down lets get to know our young ones before the next tragedy becomes the realest one. 1999 this year is half was over. Lessons not learned, how your learning i couldve told ya. Maybe this happened for a reason only the Lord knows why. And this is for us to open up our eyes cause death awaits us at any given time. My love goes out to those whos souls rest tonight, and all we can do is just ask ourselves why? Wish this wouldnt be all we can do is pray and cry.

Chorus

Things change for the wrong we cant go on this long.
Hand in hand right by your side, i love it then and no more cry so if i was to go to tonight, ill pray that youll be alright. One Lord one might rejoice, one soul unite one voice.

Pray for all of us, Father let us not take things for granted, and please let us count each and every one of our blessings Father.

Now generation X is what they call it whys that?
Is it because this is where it all ends at, to go to war we dont need to be over seas. Its been declared out in the streets, gangs, thugs, moving drugs, government officials, blackmarket, military guns.
Is this why you gave us the right to bare arms? To hit armagedon head on? Read between the lines its Genesise, and now the youth just dont smoke weed, they got things like man made methaphetamines never letting the young souls dream. And whats to do? When our youth is being mentally, physically, sexually abused. How do we change when its all put in our brains, money, sex, power, the year 2K. And everyday i watch the news it shows me how close we are to Judgement day, and so for its all worth i Pray.

Chorus
