You are my window, you cast my shadow
All in the light is you
All I ever saw in the love light was you
All I knew
You are my marrow, you cast my sorrow
You feel the world for me
You are what the world isn't feeling for me
And the key and the key
And the key here with me
And the world is black
But I can't see my window
You are my prism, you are my reason
You're what I want to be
You are everything that I want you to be
You're my key, you're my key
You're my key set me free
Open up my mind
Make me be the soul you hope to find
Keep me in line
We know I'm not all I should be feeling
Don't make me fake it, I'm not all love sense
Not all, always, not all, free and
Not all, me and not all you are, you are
You are, you are, you are, you are my window
My window, my window, my window, my window
You're my everyday, my pathway
You're my mind, my hope
My light, my love, my dream, my sleep
You are my pillow, you are my willow
You shouldn't wait for me
No one ever need weep for me anymore
You're my door
