This cannot take me over
Can't let my world dissolve
I will not let it have me
There's too much to resolve

My voice may be rejected
I may not hear your call
I cannot live without you
Can't find myself at all, at all, at all, at all
Can't find myself at all, at all, at all, at all

My voice may be rejected
I may not hear your call
I cannot live without you
Can't find myself at all

Sometime it will release me
I'll find another state
The pressure is increasing
I feel it as of late

I will not let it have me
Can't let my world dissolve
This cannot take me over
There's too much to resolve

And my soul can hardly wait
This time I see so much at stake
And my soul can hardly wait
This time, this time, this time

This cannot take me over
There's too much to resolve
I will not let it have me
Can't let my world dissolve

And my soul can hardly wait
This time I see so much at stake
And my soul can hardly wait
This time, this time, this time

And my soul can hardly wait

This time I see so much at stake
And my soul can hardly wait
This time, this time, this time
