You walk into the room, guys just turn and stare
Thinking maybe you might go home with them
Acting like they've got a prayer
You act like they ain't there

I know what's on their minds, wondering who you're with Who's the lucky guy, must be filthy rich
That's when you come over and kiss
The smile that's on my lips

Girl we got something they don't understand
And I can love you like nobody can, 'cause

I know you, your every thought, your every dream, and every mood
What you want and what you need, love never felt so true
I know you, the way you walk, the way you breathe
Your every move has a way of touching me
And brings me to my knees, when it comes to what I need
Baby, you know me

We don't have to say every little word
To communicate matters of the heart
Girl as far as I'm concerned
We just love and learn

Baby you and I, we don't scream and shout Got the kind of love and affection that Others only dream about
We always work it out

There are no secrets between you and me
I love you more and more, the more I see 'cause

I know you, your every thought, your every dream, and
every mood
What you want and what you need, love never felt so
true
I know you, the way you walk, the way you breathe

Your every move has a way of touching me
need
Oh baby, you know me

I know you, your favorite song, your favorite things
I know you, the way you love walking in the rain Baby you know it's true, I know you, I know you, I know you
