These hands are warm
If you want to come along
They'll lead you far
Enough to lead you on
The less you say
The more you give away
I think I know

What you've started
Cold hearted

Beware my friend
The circle never ends
Leave it astray
Comes back to you some day
Warm hands, cold heart
Together tear apart
I think you know

What you started
Cold hearted

Would it kill you to melt some away
And love something for more than a day
Don't make wishes and don't ever pray
I hear everything that you don't say

These hands are warm
If you want to come along
They'll take you far
Enough to take you on
Warm hands, cold heart
Together pull apart
I think we know

What you started
Cold hearted

So just love and and leave it astray
It'll come back to get you some day
Don't make wishes and I never pray

I hear everything that you don't say

What you started

Cold hearted
