Will you be free from the ones who hold your sin? I know you've seen some darker days.

We'll be home soon so don't forget, So don't you forget.

You always made me remember, I was always up close.

I have seen a demon, I have seen you.

I should have known that times were getting harder.
But we can still survive.

They draw us away but we hide.

There's no room for mistakes, what's left? 4x

different.

I should have known that times were getting harder.
But we can still survive.
They draw us away but we hide. 2x

Here's to the future, I live in dreams.

These fires burn away memories.

I see the shadows of those who fell.

I start to smile as I burn in hell.

No name, no face.

I've been on this chase for days.

I never mentioned what took place.

I turned away with shame a disgrace.

There's no room for mistakes. 2x

I should have known.
