I wanted to keep your baby but I couldn't look away

From the thing that hold my game since the day I was privy to how I could be living

It's all clear but there's no rock left unturned here

No, we're not lost, I have no fear

And I wish the same for you

There's much left we have yet to conquer

Take it or leave it, you're in on the secret

You can tell it or keep it

In case you should need it

Remember what could have been, what good is speculation

When we're following the scout to the fire

Pressed like a flower in a book

Our faces just as they were right then

I dog eared you because we were on the same page

I could see your eyes, you were picking through the blinds

You couldn't bring yourself to let me in and talk you out

How it makes me laugh with relief to leave

By keeping you around, I'm making it so hard on myself

It's not hard to tell that you don't know yourself so well

One day you'll be a man, you won't care what they'd say

I gave it all my heart could heaven

I loved a hole right through the wall

I will be strong before your slender

So you can let them talk

Go ahead and let them talk

I said just let them talk

How could they say that?

Behind and fall off

I mean I mean I

Let them talk

Nobody could hold us since they know what we want

I mean I mean I

Pressed like a flower in a book
Our faces just as they were right then
I dog eared you because we were on the same page
