Do you remember how it used to be?
When all we had was all we needed to be free
But now it seems we're fighting everyday
For something, everything
Do you remember how it used to be?
When everyday was growing up and chasing dreams
But all we're chasing now is enemies

Just burn it all down in flames
Just burn it all down in flames
Today is the day we let go of hate and start again

Do you remember how it used to be?
When all you wanted was to see the world in peace
But now you wave your flag at everything
Controlling, destroying
So cold and blind but you'll deny
But you'll deny

Just burn it all down in flames
Just burn it all down in flames
Today is the day we let go of hate and start again,
again

Just burn it all down in flames
Just burn it all down in flames
Today is the day we find our new fate and start again

Light it up, light it up with fire
Let it burn in flames so we can start again
Light it up, light it up with fire
Let it burn in flames so we can start again

Just burn it all down in flames
Just burn it all down in flames
Today is the day we let go of hate and start again,
again

Just burn it all down in flames
Just burn it all down in flames
Today is the day we find our new fate and start again

And start again
